SOURCING AND MARKETING:

Doing business Overseas can be a challenge, yet it is inevitably becoming essential in order to compete in our ever-shrinking globalized world. Not only must your company compete on quality and design now, but also there is ever more push for cost cutting and reduction at retail due to the economical pressures.

Sourcing companies are middlemen who facilitate relationships with suppliers. They specialize in importing goods from various regions of the world on your behalf. They locate the best sources at the most competitive prices internationally and locally saving you anything up to 50% or even more on purchase prices.

Global Product Solutions has initialized, structured, and implemented product sourcing development all the way from product inception to market release for some of the largest retailers in the world. We have also coordinated smaller sourcing relationships with manufacturing companies that just enhance bits and pieces of the supply chain but yet greatly increase product profitability.

Our goal is to not only offer a GREAT price to help your bottom line, but also be a trusted business partner helping you with product development and quality, ensuring you get the best product for the money from single point of contact

Sourcing Services offered by the company have gained laurels from the clients based in India as well as other parts of the world. We are competent enough to source as per the details and requirements provided by the clients.

We take utmost care of the order placed by the clients and make sure that they receive products in flawless condition. We also provide assistance in getting the approval of import and export department for sourcing products from one country to another. Our trusted services and authentic work policies have made us one of the noted Sourcing Services providers in the country.
